

PRÁDLO

COOKIES POLICY

STOCK Plzeň-Božkov s.r.o., which has its registered office at Palírenská 641/2, Božkov, 326 00 Plzeň, Company No. (IČO): 279 04 636 and is incorporated in the Companies Register of the Regional Court in Plzeň, Section C, File 21004 (“STOCK” or “we”) uses cookies on the www.pradlodistillery.cz and www.pradlodistillery.eu websites and, as the case may be, any other websites that STOCK operates or will operate in the future (“website”). We use various types of cookies and other tracking technologies in order to display relevant content to you, the website visitors, and enable you to use the features of websites to the fullest extent possible.

Cookie files serve primarily to analyse the number of visitors to websites and ensure they are convenient to use; for example, they enable us to remember you the next time you visit our websites. They do not enable us to view the content of your device or obtain the data saved on it in any other way.

OUR MANAGEMENT OF COOKIE FILES

We save cookie files on your device only if you give your free, informed, and specific consent where this is required by legal regulations. This does not just apply to session and permanent cookies, which are necessary to ensure secure use of the website, and session cookies required to verify age. You can give your consent by clicking on the “I agree” button located in the cookie banner, which is displayed on all our websites. In order to remember your consent or rejection of cookie files, we will save a cookie file on your device for a maximum duration of one year.

You can revoke your consent to saving or gaining access to data stored on your device (cookie files) at any time by means of a written request e-mailed to gdpr@stockspirits.com.

You can give your consent by using permanently saved cookies – which record information regarding the successful verification of age (described above) – by clicking on the “Remember me on this device” button during the age verification process.

You can remove already saved cookies by changing your web browser settings (along with deleting the history of the websites visited and cache files) or block the saving of new cookies at any time. Depending on the settings applied, you can block or remove all or just some cookies. For example, you can block the saving of permanent cookies or those originating on different websites, as well as remove cookie files saved during a specific timespan or session. In addition, you can set a “private mode” for visiting our websites, which will restrict the range of data registered by the computer.

More information about this can be found on your web browser’s support website:

- Internet Explorer
- Mozilla Firefox
- Google Chrome
- Safari

For information regarding other web browsers, visit the specific browser’s website.

PRÁDLO

OUR USE OF COOKIE FILES

Cookie files help us to identify you as a unique website user and remember the settings you selected during your last visit, such as the layout of the content on a web page, specific location selected, and login information pre-entered on the login form.

If you do not allow us to use cookies to the fullest extent possible, we cannot guarantee that all areas of our websites will retain their intended functionality.

Advertising cookies enable us to display targeted advertising on our websites by tracking your behaviour and searches on the Internet using the identification in your web browser settings. These cookies do not identify a specific person, but rather the settings and preferences of an anonymous user of the particular computer. Advertising cookies are also used to rate the efficiency of specific advertising and track the number of users who are interested in this.

We use cookies to analyse the number of visitors to our websites through Google Analytics, Google AdWords, Facebook, Exponea, Medallia, and HotJar services. These are analytical tools that show how users make use of our websites and applications. Cookies can also process statistics on website utilisation without identifying a specific user.

CHANGING THE POLICY

Any potential future changes in this Cookies Policy will be published on the respective websites.